Rites Thursday For Spartansburg Boy, Korean War Victim

Killed in action in Korea on July 25, 1950, a Warren county man whose home was in Spartansburg RD 3, will come home tomorrow for military rites and burial in East Branch cemetery.

He is Pfc. Herbert E. Rugar, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rugar, and lost his life less than one month after the Korean crisis was precipitated.

Pfc. Rugar entered the Army in 1942 and was one of the company of servicemen touring the country that year with the Army War Show. In 1943, he was sent overseas with a Coast Artillery searchlight battalion, going first to North Africa, later to Corsica, and then into Germany.

Discharged in 1945, he reenlisted in 1950 and was sent to Japan early in July. He was immediately assigned to duty with the 27th Infantry Regiment and could not have been in Korea many days before his death.

Surviving him are a brother, Glenn Rugar, Spartansburg RD 1; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Vanderhoof, Garfield, and Mrs. Gladys Nichols, Spartansburg RD; also a number of nieces and nephews.

Arriving in San Francisco aboard the Winthrop Victory, the body is being shipped to Spartansburg and will arrive there tomorrow morning. Friends may pay their respects at the Torrey and Hays Funeral Home at that place and the memorial service will be held there at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Rev. Charles Fuller, pastor of Centerville Baptist church, will officiate and burial will take place in East Branch cemetery.

Military rites at the graveside will be in charge of the John Crowe Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Union City, and the Spartansburg Post, American Legion.

Attempted Trap By 'Reds' Is Defeated By UN Advance Unit

Seoul, Korea, April 9—(AP)—An outnumbered United Nations advance unit today broke up an attempted trap by a hundred Reds west of the Mundung Valley of the eastern Korean front.

The Communists hit the unit's position from three sides, said a U. S. Eight Army tactical summary. They directed their main effort at its rear. The U. N. troops withdrew on orders but two hours later had fought back to their front line post.

It was the heaviest fight reported along the U. N. front Wednesday morning. Other ground action was confined to light patrol engagements.

U. S. jet planes, grounded by rain and clouds Tuesday, took off in clearing weather Wednesday and renewed their bomb and rocket attacks on Red frontlines and supply positions.

The U. S. battleship Iowa dumped 145 tons of shells on Red rail lines along North Korea's east coast.

Pilots of B-26 night intruders and U. S. Marine fighter-bombers reported they destroyed 35 vehicles and a locomotive in attacks behind Red lines Tuesday night.

Field, Stream Club Has 1,533 Members; Accomplishes Much

With Irvinedale school crowded to capacity, Warren Field and Stream Club held its regular meeting, Tuesday night, and heard John Schuler, chairman of the membership committee, report that the club now has a paid-up membership of 1,533.

The potential size and importance of the organization also was indicated in his report that 900 lapsed memberships are yet to be contacted.

Don Taft had a fine report to make on the project at Still Run area, 26 men having turned out with tools to accomplish the work at hand. He predicted the area will be entirely pruned within another year, and has arranged for planting 12 Chinese chestnut trees of the proper strain.

The club, already having decided to pay the expenses of one county boy to attend the junior conservation course at State College next summer, decided to sponsor a second boy provided the County Council does not do so.

Ross Bailey reported that 37,450 new trout have been placed in the streams of Warren county in advance of the season's opening, and Jay Pees of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, reminded the members of the danger of forest fires this time of year.

The club decided to purchase a set of junior conservation books for each school in Warren borough as well as a set for the Warren Public Library.

Four good motion pictures were shown before the meeting broke up.

DEMANDS PROBE OF 'INDUSTRY'S FLIGHT'

Harrisburg, April 9—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association wants the Commonwealth to investigate reports of "the flight of industry from Pennsylvania."

Edward Gogolin, the association's general manager, also asked yesterday for a probe of the possibility of a connection between the departure of industry and what he termed the state's "antiquated, punitive and restrictive" truck weight laws.

William W. Behrens, deputy commerce secretary, said the matter will have to be considered further before any statement is issued by the department.

The Bureau of Sanitation decided yesterday to chain and lock every basket to a pole to make certain they stay put.

CIO CALLS NATIONWIDE STRIKE AGAINST BELL

Washington, April 9—(AP)—The CIO's Communications Workers Union today ordered a nationwide strike against the Bell Telephone System.

Union leaders ordered picket lines thrown up around Bell installations all over the country.

A spokesman said he expects 300,000 workers to be affected by the action.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, said he sent out orders for the picket lines to be established beginning 1 p. m., local time.

There are about 77,000 telephone workers on strike now. These include employees of Western Electric, the Bell System's manufacturing subsidiary, and Bell employees in four states.

Western Electric workers are striking in 43 states.

Beirne predicts that 200,000 to 225,000 other telephone workers would not cross the picket lines.

Although most of the workers officially are not being called out on strike now, Beirne said the picket lines will have the same effect.

DuPont Finds Monday Absentees Are Problem Drinkers; Allergists Cite Fur Coat 'Illness'

'HARD TO GET ALONG WITH' OFTEN IMBIBES

Pittsburgh, April 9—(AP)—A medical director for E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co. says a good report that an employee is a problem drinker comes when he fails to report for Monday work or when he is hard to get along with.

Dr. G. H. Gehrman told a group of Pittsburgh industrialists yesterday that he has been working with Du Pont's alcoholic problems for the past eight years.

Dr. Gehrman said the Du Pont program is credited with rehabilitating 65 per cent of the workers who were alcoholics. He estimated that 400 of Du Pont's 100,000 employees belong to Alcoholics Anonymous.

"That's no more than in other industries," Dr. Gehrman said, "but Du Pont does something about it."

Du Pont procedure is to make the drinker aware of his problem, then give him three months to recognize he is a problem drinker and do something about it.

GRUNEWALD IS CITED TODAY FOR CONTEMPT

Washington, April 9—(AP)—The house cited Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald for contempt of Congress today for "willful and deliberate refusal" to talk about his mysterious connection with big-money tax cases figuring in tax scandal investigations.

By a rollcall vote of 332 to 0, the house whipped through the contempt citation with a minimum of discussion and without a voice being raised in his behalf.

Grunewald was not present to hear the house refer to his "contumacious conduct" to the United States attorney for prosecution.

Kiwanis Club Joins in Worship With Rev. Lundquist, Speaker

A delegation of approximately 50 Kiwanis Club members augmented an already large attendance at today's noontime Holy Week service in First Evangelical United Brethren church, when the pastor, Rev. Charles B. Kinney, presided and the message was brought by Rev. Harold Lundquist, pastor of Youngville Evangelical United Brethren church.

Organist C. T. Pichard was in charge of the special music for the service and Rev. Kinney chose for his scripture reading Matthew 16:24-28.

Having for his topic "The Cross—A Call to Righteousness," Rev. Lundquist described the cross as "a symbol of the Christian faith, standing for sacrifice and self-giving, for a way of life, for all that men may ever hope for."

Asking the question: "Because it is a call to righteousness, why should we respond to it?" Mr. Lundquist pointed out that "we should respond because it portrays the life purpose of Jesus Christ."

REPORT 37 LOST ON JAPANESE AIRLINER

Tokyo, April 9—(AP)—Japanese sources said a Japanese airliner carrying 37 persons crashed in the water 150 miles southwest of Tokyo today. Rescue reports were denied by the U. S. Navy.

The Japanese maritime board reported all were picked up by the U. S. Minesweeper Heron or Firecrest. The Navy reported neither ship had picked up anyone.

The rescue vessel Titania arrived at the scene tonight but found no trace of the crash.

Three Americans were aboard the plane—a twin engine Martin 2-0-2. The newly chartered Japan Airlines identified them as Ernest G. Stewart, pilot; Raymond G. Cleveland, co-pilot and navigator; and a passenger, as Capt. W. L. Reed of Johnson Air Force Base.

Justice Dept. to Rule On Oath—If Requested

Harrisburg, April 9—(AP)—The State Justice Department will make a ruling—only if asked formally—on the question of whether public workers, who refuse to take the state's loyalty oath, may keep their jobs without pay.

Attorney General Robert E. Woodside stated the department's position yesterday when asked for comment on the offer of eight interns and resident trainees at the Philadelphia General Hospital to stay on the job without taking the oath.

Washington, April 9—(AP)—All signs pointed today toward confirmation of a report that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is coming home soon to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

One strong indication was the lack of denial from any quarter that he has mailed a letter asking to be relieved as commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

Another was comment by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) that the report "could be true."

"Write that if you like," Lodge told reporters at Shannon airport in Ireland. "I can neither confirm nor deny it."

Lodge, in charge of the general's presidential campaign, is en route home after a four-day Paris visit with Eisenhower. He said before leaving that his talks had been "entirely crowned with success."

The report that Eisenhower had sent President Truman a request to be relieved as NATO military chief came from what was called "the best available sources" close to the general.

The belief was expressed that the letter went by air mail or air courier and would be in the president's hands by Thursday. However, this would not necessarily mean an immediate public announcement.

Eisenhower's headquarters refused to comment on the report.

PETITIONS OF ATOM SPIES ARE REFUSED

New York, April 9—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has denied petitions by condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg for a new hearing on their appeals.

Their counsel, following the Appeals Court action yesterday, moved to stay the tribunal's mandate so the case could be carried to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Rosenberg, 34, and his wife, 36, were sentenced to death last year after a federal court jury found them guilty of conspiracy to transmit atomic bomb secrets to Russia during wartime. Their death sentences were the first meted out by a civil court to civilians under the Espionage Act of 1917.

MEADVILLE WAR II VET DIES IN KOREA

Meadville, Pa., April 9—(AP)—When the Japanese attacked at Pearl Harbor Cpl. Frank Szelinski of R. D. 6, Meadville, escaped without a scratch.

Szelinski, then a veteran of 15 years' Army service, went through the Pacific campaign unscathed. After World War II he took a job at Talon Fastener Co. here. Within 60 days he decided he wasn't fitted for civilian life—that the Army was his career. He reenlisted.

More than a year ago he was called for a tour of duty in Korea. His family has been notified that he has been killed in action. He had been listed as missing since Aug. 16, 1950.

GI'S MISSING WALLET IS SENT STATESIDE

Maple Shade, N. J., April 9—(AP)—The other day Mrs. Henry L. Gibson received a package from Japan containing the wallet of her son, Cpl. Frederick Gibson, who is stationed in Tokyo.

A note accompanying the wallet explained the sender, a Japanese, had found it and that since he had a high regard for American troops he wanted to be sure the soldier got it back. The wallet contained $41.

Pittsburgh, April 9—(AP)—Two men engaged an office clerk in conversation about renting an apartment before whipping out pistols and robbing the Glen-Hazel housing project office of $1,000 yesterday.

EISENHOWER'S WRITE-INS PUT HIM IN THIRD

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Chicago, April 9—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft rode the crest of overwhelming victory in the Illinois Republican presidential primary election today. It marked his third primary election triumph in a row and the biggest of his campaign.

The Ohio Republican polled nearly three times as many votes as all other GOP presidential candidates combined and apparently won 48 or possibly 49 of the state's 50 delegates to the GOP national convention in July.

On the basis of about four-fifths of the complete unofficial returns from yesterday's primary election, Harold Stassen was trailing far behind in second place with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose name did not appear on the ballot, in third place.

Senator Taft had some 70 per cent of the votes.

The primary popularity returns are not binding on the state's convention delegates. Both parties elected 50 delegates yesterday. Another 10 will be picked later in party conventions.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, running without opposition as the Democratic presidential candidate, piled up a large vote.

There was a fair sized presidential write in vote for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, but he trailed Kefauver seven to one.

However, Stevenson showed greater strength in his bid for re-nomination as governor than Kefauver did in the presidential primary. Stevenson was unopposed for the state office.

BIG CANADIAN LINER IS SOLD FOR SCRAP

Montreal, April 9—(AP)—The Empress of Australia—once the pride of Canada's Pacific Steamship fleet—has been sold for scrap to a British steel corporation.

First called the Tirpitz, the 21,833-ton liner was built in 1914 in Stettin, Germany. She was surrendered to the Allies by Germany, in 1919. In 1921 she was acquired by the Canadian Pacific Steamship Co.

After almost 20 years as a passenger liner, sailing out of Vancouver, the Empress spent her last years as a British troopship.

BURNS TO DEATH

Chambersburg, Pa., April 9—(AP)—Three-year old Deborah Robertson died at Chambersburg Hospital yesterday of burns suffered when her home on the edge of town was destroyed by fire.

The child's mother, Mrs. Helen Bisecker, 38, ran through a wall of flame to rescue her from the blaze. The mother and four other children were left homeless.

Airfield Repair Ban Trade 'Phony Issue' Claim Negotiators

Munsan, Korea, April 9—(AP)—A U. N. negotiator said today the Allies "absolutely would not" trade a ban on repairing military airfields for the "strictly phony issue" of Russia as a Korean truce supervisor.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison made the statement after a Chinese negotiator hinted for the second successive day the Communists would like to make such a swap.

"They are trying to offer us something that should not be an issue at all for something really vital to an armistice," Harrison told newsmen.

In Tokyo British Gen. Sir Charles F. Keightley commented the "Chinese are playing a game at Panmunjom. They know, everyone knows, the U. N. is anxious for peace. When that peace will come probably will be decided by the men in Peiping."

Nevertheless Keightley said he was "optimistic that within six months an uneasy peace will be worked out in Korea." Keightley, commander of British Far East land forces, made the statement at his "personal opinion" after an inspection tour of Korea and a conference with Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. truce negotiator.

'No! No!' Says Penn State As Rah-Rah Boys Invade Dorm

State College, April 9.—(P)—Students at Penn State College were warned that "severe action" will follow any more outbreaks such as on Monday night when a mass raid was made on girls' dormitories.

The warning was issued yesterday by the college disciplinary committee, which includes representatives of the students, faculty and administration.

The raid was staged by more than 2,000 male students who invaded the coeds' quarters in quest of lingerie souvenirs.

Despite a barrage of water and the contents of inkwells the youths forced their way into the buildings and ran out with their souvenirs. Two students, a youth and a girl, were slightly injured in the scuffle. Their names were withheld.

The 1951 general assembly co-operated in the move by allocating a record $600,000 for cancer control work during the next two years.

The biggest chunk, $350,000, was earmarked for the Institute of Cancer Research at Fox Chase, Philadelphia. The remaining $250,000 will finance the work of the cancer control division.

The $350,000 institute appropriation is the biggest cancer research grant ever made by the state. Dr. Russell E. Teague, state health secretary, said the institute will keep the state informed periodically of its activities and discoveries.

The federal government has matched the $250,000 earmarked by the legislature for state supervised cancer control work, making a total of $500,000 available in the next two years.

The state's cancer control campaign is being pushed, said Dr. Clark, by a series of cancer education courses and lectures. Also, the state is helping to finance 84 cancer diagnostic clinics.

AT EMERGENCY

Cheryl M. Erickson, aged 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Erickson, Warren RD 3, was injured when she fell from a tricycle, Tuesday, suffering a laceration to the upper lip. Three sutures were inserted during her treatment at Warren General Hospital, and she was discharged. Joan Nosel, 20 Russell street, was given attention at the hospital when she broke off a sewing needle at the base of the fifth right finger.

RADIO ENGINEERS

The Emporium Section of the Institute of Radio Engineers will hold its April meeting on Tuesday the 15th. This meeting will be at 7.45 p. m. in the Sylvania Club Conference Room. Speaker for the evening will be Mr. James S. Allen who will describe "An Experiment UHF-TV Transmitter". Mr. Allen joined Sylvania in 1948 after receiving his B. S. degree in Mechanical Engineering from California Institute of Technology. He is presently a member of the Advanced Applications Section of Sylvania's Commercial Engineering Department at Emporium. Mr. Allen is working on special problems concerning television scanning and color. He holds an amateur license with call letters W3RJM. A great deal of local interest is anticipated for this meeting. It is hoped that the lifting of the F. C. C. "freeze" will result in some sort of television service for Emporium and vicinity; it is almost certain this service will be in the allotted UHF channel. Perhaps some advance information, concerning this service, will be available.

German Patient At Warren State Has Talk With Students

Two second-year German students of Warren High School, Elizabeth Eddy and Sally Bova, last week brought forth a response that showed the delight of a 43-year-old German woman, a patient of the Warren State Hospital, who cannot yet speak English. The girls carried on a short conversation in German with her when they visited the part of the hospital where she is, while they were on tour of buildings with the Y-Teen service group.

During the conversation the woman said that she likes this country very much, and she invited the girls to visit her again. The girls were told that her opportunities for conversation are limited to talking with one night nurse, who speaks and understands German.

She showed the girls the embroidery work she was doing and some stuffed animals several of the other patients had made.

The leaders of the Y-Teens' service group, Mrs. Charles Pettit, a nurse at the hospital, and Mrs. Jack Leslie, an employee, took the sixteen girls in the group on an extensive tour of the hospital. Besides the two girls mentioned there were Marjorie Carlson, Marina Dutchess, Mary Elliott, Josephine Garber, Roseann Germonito, Frances Gruttaria, Marilyn Johnson, Barbara Linder, June Odmark, Joyce Sponsler, Doris Strauser, Mary Tingwall, Joanne Waite, and Carole Weigle.

Soil Conservation Directors Convene

The monthly meeting of the directors of the Warren County Soil Conservation District was held in the Court House Annex Tuesday at 2 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Stanley Laurence. During the routine business it was decided to hold the summer meetings the second Tuesday evenings at 8:00 p. m.

Oscar Kimmel, supervisor of the State Soil Conservation Commission, was present and spoke on various helpful subjects. He stressed the watershed development as a group approach. This method has proved most successful as a means of securing new cooperators and increasing the application of practices on the land.

A. H. Vogler, district forester, Pennsylvania Department Forests and Waters, reported five cooperating farmers were visited and woodlands gone over. On some only woodland management recommendations were given, while on others, areas were marked for harvest cutting, improvement, or thinning.

Ralph G. Eckert, SCS, reported eight new cooperators had requested assistance from the Soil Conservation District. A total of 388 requests have been received to date of which 333 have already completed their Conservation farm plan with the help of the SCS. He also stated that multiflora rose and wild-life shrubs could be secured, by cooperators, this Thursday and Friday. Any one wishing to secure planting stock this spring should contact the SCS immediately. Contact by phone can be made any morning between 8:00 and 8:30 at Warren 3404.

The Story of Easter, 3.

AP Newsfeatures

Most Christian writers agree that some of the symbolism of Easter is taken from pagan rites. The early authorities often accepted the symbolism, but insisted that the pagans worshipped devils. These authorities took great care to separate Christian from pagan interpretations. Some modern writers suggest the pagans worshipped God as best they knew and that some of their rites contained premonitions of the Resurrection.

Since Easter comes in spring, many spring rites became Easter ceremonies. The English word for Easter derives from Eostre, Anglo Saxon goddess of spring.

Council Meeting At Youngville Is Short

Youngville council meeting Monday evening was short and routine, with two principal items of business conducted.

Attorney S. Knox Harper, of Warren, was retained as borough solicitor to replace S. D. Blackman, recently resigned. Mr. Harper attended the meeting and will continue to attend each monthly meeting, something new in Youngville. Council held a long discussion concerning the accepting of streets and the extension of sanitary sewers with Mr. Harper, and cleared up many legal problems involved in the procedure.

Council also adopted daylight savings time in conformance with surrounding communities, to be April 26 and continue until late September.

The police report for March showed 11 arrests for motor vehicle violations; 11 calls answered; one accident investigated; 44 parking tickets issued; $359.75 in parking meter collections; and fines of $99 reported by Justice W. H. Brazee.

Council also issues a warning to Youngville residents of an imminent visit of the state dog catcher to Youngville.

A BRAVE MAN DIES

A very brave man recently died in this community. This could be said in most any town similar to Warren.

A good many of us realized that we would lose him... it was no secret why he was growing thin and drawn.

He was not in great pain - - thanks to research progress - - and he faced the future with the calm faith of a believer. He loved his family and his work and his life, but he accepted the necessity of leaving it all. The last days that he was up and around he spent in cleaning up his garden.

He knew he had cancer. He was sure that science would eventually find the answer, but he had no false hopes for himself. The answer might protect his grandchildren; it could not save his own life. His cancer, unfortunately, was not one of those that doctors can today always diagnose in time for cure.

Many felt angry and helpless as they watched the last weeks of a good friend.

Now they want to do something about cancer. And they can do something.

They can get into the Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society. A generous gift to the ACS unit here will be a fine memorial to our neighbor - - will help save lives in this community and state - - and will bring the day closer when cancer is finally brought under control by research, by education, by service.

We are losing too many fine people we love to cancer.

Let's join the American Cancer Society and Strike Back!

TRUMAN'S TRIPLE SQUEEZE

Reminding that President Truman has put the steel industry in a triple squeeze, James Marlow, AP writer, in a feature article from Washington, says the action now makes it tough for it to buck the government.

The three points in the "squeeze" are listed as Public Opinion, the Legal Fight, and the Big Stick, as outlined in the radio talk of the chief executive last evening.

The president blessed the union's wage demands and condemned, 100 per cent, the companies' request for permission to boost prices if they raise wages, insisting the industry is making so much money it can afford to increase wages without boosting prices.

On the other hand the companies planned to fight the seizure all the way up through the courts, with the battle already begun.

Using "the big stick" Truman not only ordered Secretary of Commerce Sawyer to seize the plants in the name of the government but allowed him to "prescribe the terms and conditions of employment."

This would let Sawyer raise wages in accordance with recommendations by the Wage Stabilization Board. If he does raise wages the fat's in the fire for the industry. Then the companies would be confronted with an accomplished fact whenever it got its plants back. Hence it appears the authority given Sawyer is a tremendous pressure on the industry to come to terms with the union.

GOOD FISHING IN THE OFFING!

Pennsylvania fishermen are very happy that many miles of trout streams formerly closed to them have been opened to angling this year.

The game law says it is unlawful for any person to fish in waters within the boundaries of any state game refuge, or to take fish from them, except such streams as the Game Commission may declare open to lawful fishing in accordance with the fish laws of the Commonwealth, or under such provisions or regulations as may be agreed upon between the Game Commission and the Fish Commission.

At their January meeting, the Game Commission approved the request of Charles A. French Executive Director of the Fish Commission, not to close fishing on streams within state game refuges. This applies only to state game refuge streams that have been stocked with trout by the Fish Commission.

Signs posted conspicuously along such streams will notify the public that the waters are open to lawful fishing from April 15 to July 31.

Unposted streams in state game refuges will remain closed to fishing.

What Price Wage Increase?

Here And There

The April, 1952, meeting of the Warren borough council, according to the issue of the Warren Evening Times the following day, was "Probably the most important ever held in the history of the borough."

Adjourning at 11:15 o'clock, the session lasted for three and one-quarter hours. The highlights are described in the lead of the story in this manner:

In the matter of volume of business transacted, and in its importance, a record was established that will stand for a long time.

Discussion followed discussion, and motion followed motion, until when an adjournment was taken at 11:15, the Clerk, the Councilmen and inhabitants of the press gallery looked as if they had encountered a Texas cyclone.

The most important legislation, or at least, the most interesting to the general public, was the passing through the first reading of an ordinance granting to the Warren Street Railway Company the right to use certain streets for the building of an electric line.

But few of the councilmen had any inkling of the proceedings.

until a short time before the meeting, and to the public the proposition also comes as a surprise. E. D. Wetmore is president of the new company, R. G. Chapel is secretary, and the board of directors consists of these men in connection with W. D. Todd, C. W. Stone and E. E. Allen. Other capitalists are also interested.

The company asks for privileges on Water street from the borough limits, to Chestnut street, north on Chestnut street to Fourth; east on Fourth, running part of the way, over the present line to Hazel; south on Hazel to Third; east on Third to Liberty; south on Liberty over the present tracks, to Second; west on Second to Hickory; north on Hickory to Third, thus completing a loop about the block bounded by Liberty, Third and Hickory. Mr. Allen, who was present for the company, said it was the intention of the company to build a new line between Warren and Youngsville. Mr. Siggins questioned the intentions of the company to really build the road.

Perfectionist Wilson Laid Solid Defense Plan for U. S.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Charles E. Wilson, ex-boss of U. S. Defense Mobilization, once told a story about the development of an automatic washing machine with which he had something to do. This was in the early days of such gadgets when, as he explained it, "the vibration was terrible and unless they were bolted to the floor, they walked all over the laundry, knocking down the children and doing all kinds of damage."

Wilson would not let his company go into the manufacture of such machines, though his sales department stormed that competitors were running off with all the business. Wilson told his engineers to go back to their laboratory and not to come out until they had a machine which was so vibrationless that a half-dollar could be stood on it edgewise, without falling, while it was operating.

It took two years and it cost several million dollars to achieve this degree of perfection, but in the end they got it.

The degree of perfection which he required in every phase of the U. S. defense effort is shown by his final report to the President, "Strength for the Long Run." It covers the quarter-year ending March 31, when Mr. Wilson resigned.

PLENTY of people in Washington are criticizing that report. They say it shows too little progress. Aircraft production isn't high enough to suit them. There isn't enough production of everything else from tanks to tin cans.

Further, it is being pointed out that under Mr. Wilson, the original three-year program of defense build-up was stretched out to a four-year program that won't be completed till 1955. And this fourth year's production is going to cost another $50 billion more than was originally counted on.

It would have been easier, perhaps, for Mr. Wilson to pile up an amazing record of production than it was for him to quit under a rain of brickbats. The original production goals might have been set lower. Designs of planes, tanks, guns and radar equipment available in 1950—might have been frozen. Industry could have been geared up quickly to turn out World War II types of equipment in far greater quantities than are apparent today.

Such a performance could have been made to look awfully good by the issuance of optimistic reports, bragging up the completed job. But the story of the washing machine—which is much easier to understand—is now being revived to show why that kind of a program wasn't followed.

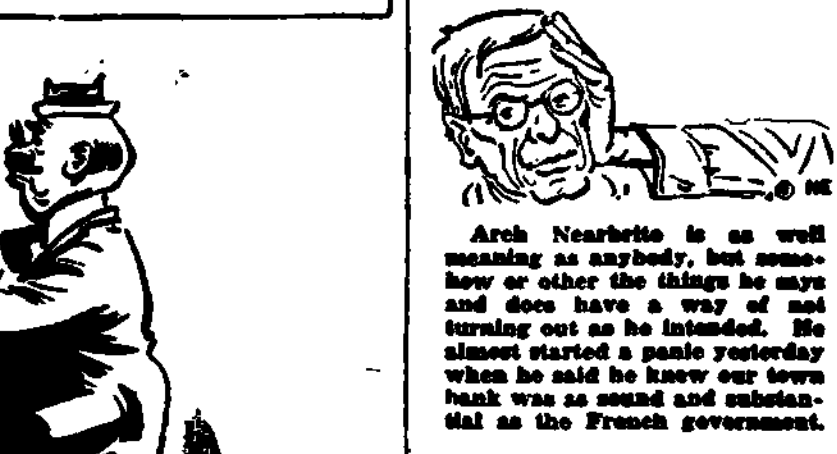

A SURVEY is under way to determine whether price controls may be removed on some materials now in better supply. A steel strike would interfere seriously, but barring that or a war, there is a possibility that steel might be removed from the controlled-materials plan by the end of the year.

The year and a quarter that C. E. Wilson was in control of the U. S. mobilization program is therefore being summarized as a period in which a sound foundation was laid for a modern defense plan.

As to whether Mr. Wilson quit his job in a huff because of a difference with President Truman over steel wage and price policies, some qualifications must now be made. Though Mr. Wilson himself denied it at the time, the word got out in mid-March that he planned to resign as of April 1.

It was indicated that he might resign July 1. The steel wage crisis helped him make up his mind, gave him an excuse to walk out the job earlier and leave to others the actual building of the "washing machine" on whose perfection he had insisted.

The chances are that both of the above are right, and that the reason Mrs. Hoover could read it was she remembered what she had told the president to say in the message.

Daily Lenten Sermonette

THE REV. ROGER D. MORSEY, Bethel Evangelical United Brethren

SACRIFICIAL GIVING

Text: And He called unto Him His disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury: for all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living."

"Sacrifice" is a word which comes to have a deeper meaning as we approach Good Friday. We have been thinking of the word and might have been making some personal sacrifices during the Lenten period. But the word itself takes on a deeper meaning when we look at the Cross of Calvary. But Jesus made much of the sacrifices of those whom He noticed during His earthly ministry. In the text we have the story of the widow who came to the Temple to worship. As she passed by the offering box, she put in just a small amount. Others before her had given great amounts. But Jesus saw more than the ordinary observer would see and saw that that was all that she had. The amount which others had given was a mere pittance in relation to what she had given.

Sacrificial giving is not that giving which might involve great sums of money but yet does not take anything out of our own needs. No person has ever made a sacrifice who has done only what he needed to do. The person who is willing to sacrifice is the person who is willing to do something which will cost him something in his life. We make no sacrifice in attending church, because we receive much more than we can give. We make no sacrifice when we give our tithe unto the work of the building of the Kingdom of God, because that is what God expects. Sacrifice to the early Christians meant the selling of all that they had and giving it to the work of the Church. Sacrifice will take on a deeper meaning in our lives when we are willing to dedicate all that we have to God—our talents, our time, our possessions, yes, even all of life. That is the sacrifice of the widow in giving all that she had. That must be ours if we would sacrificially give to God.

Johnson Cub Pack Monthly Meeting Is Held at Beaty Bldg.

Cub Pack 2, sponsored by Johnson PTA, held its monthly meeting in Beaty Junior High School auditorium, with the opening ceremony in the form of a flag salute by all the boys in uniform.

The "cubs" then presented their words and shields fashioned to carry out the theme of the month, Knights of the Round Table, hewing some splendid workmanship. Willis Tickner announced the theme for the coming month, "Things That Grow."

The Webelos Award was presented to Tommy Bjers and Robert Halet, who were advanced and accepted into Troop 2, Boy Scouts, by Earl Mohnkern.

The Pack Flag was awarded to Den 4 and Den 8 for the month, each to have it for a period of two weeks.

A fire drill was then staged with pleasing results.

The "surprise entertainment" of the evening was in the form of two short skits, "The King With the Terrible Temper" and "The Story of King Arthur," presented by the committee of Pack 2, Jim Palmer, Willard Briggs, Dee Drayer, Willis Tickner and Jim Nordine, with Walter Pearson as master of ceremonies. The presentation provided many chuckles for the large audience through its humor and dress portrayals.

Concluding, the Cubs all joined in the benediction.

Give the little lady a helping hand

THIS ad is addressed to husbands—Husbands who've yearned for the thrill of sitting behind a broad hood packed with horsepower—and the pride of rolling down the street in a car that tells the world, "Here's a man who knows the finest thing on wheels."

But husbands have wives. And wives have been known to say, "No big cars for me. They're too hard to handle."

Well, we have an answer for that one. It's a ROADMASTER with Buick's new Power Steering.† And Power Steering takes over any time the steering gets tough—works like a helping hand—reduces the effort of turning the wheel of a car at a standstill to about the same effort it takes to pick up a mink coat.

BUT out on the open highway—with a clear straight stretch before you—your hands still have command of the wheel—you can feel that sure, firm, easy and eager responsiveness that's a part of the fun of driving.

The rest of the fun is in something else that's new this year—the highest horsepower that a Buick Fireball Engine has ever delivered—and an Airpower carburetor that lets loose an extra reserve of power when needed, and still adds extra miles to your cruising range on each tankful of gas.

So we suggest a family demonstration. You'll both like the hushed and restful silence of this superbly able traveler. You'll like the harmonious beauty of its interior, and the deep and luxurious softness of its seats.

You'll like the velvet-gloved grip of its Wide-Band brakes, and the most capacious trunk in Buick history.

You'll like the smooth surge of Dynaflo Drive, and you'll like—but why waste time talking, when you could be finding out more than we can ever tell you? How about making a date to do that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. While models optional at extra cost when available. †Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Chapter 36

"I LOOK..." Kay was almost gay. "How about a swim?" Doctor Clark will be here in a few minutes. I told Karen to take a little time off and join us. That's why I invited him. Nick Walker ought to be here, too." She touched his arm. "Don't say anything about Nancy, though. I'll tell Nick she's not feeling well because of the heat. You'll join us?"

"Does a duck swim?" grinned Johnny. "You get me in that pool and I'm not coming out again until the first snow falls."

Moe Martin came in while Johnny was putting on the swim trunks that Kay had brought. He sighed as he observed Johnny's tall, lean, hard form.

"I wish I was thin again," Moe said sadly. He was perspiring.

Johnny observed the fit of the trunks in the mirror. "Where have you been, pappy?"

"I can't find Grandpoppa Smith," Moe said worriedly. "I've walked my legs off."

"What did he want?"

"I dunno. But Hannah says he was all worked up about what-ever it was. He wanted to see you."

"He'll show up again. Maybe he's collecting butterflies for a change."

Johnny went downstairs and out to the patio terrace by way of the conservatory. The others—big Nick Walker, Doctor Bob Clark, the sandy haired youngster, Ralph Dunkirk, and Kay were just heading across the lawn toward the swimming pool. A white robe was around the girl's trim figure.

He saw Karen, the nurse, some distance beyond them. She, too, wore a beach robe and he caught a flash of long, tapered legs. Karen was just arranging a chair for Irene Smith. The massive great Dane, Michael, was with them.

Irene looked up as he hurried to join the others. Now there was no recognition in her eyes whatsoever.

Kay saw him coming, stopped, in is a sissy!" She dropped her beach robe. Karen, the nurse, had done likewise. She had a good figure. Her legs were heavier than Kay's. She wore a tight-fitting red cap over her dark hair.

Later, Johnny guessed that they piled into the pool about the same instant. The water was cool and exhilarating, and as he popped to the surface someone splashed his face.

It was Kay, her piquant face framed by a white rubber swim cap. "Touch bottom!" she taunted, and disappeared.

He dived after her, tried to grab her legs, lost her and came to the surface again. He treaded water and watched for her head to pop up again. The others were making a lot of noise and swimming around.

Kay must have screamed the moment her head broke the surface. It was a cry that turned Johnny Saxon's stomach into a knot. He twisted around, saw her behind him, two yards away, a look of horror in her wide, stricken eyes.

"Johnny!" she choked out. "Johnny..." She pointed downward. Then she made a queer cry again.

Johnny dived, swam downward, eyes open beneath the water. He must have barely missed it the first time. The figure was lying on the bottom of the pool. It was face down. He managed to roll it over before he had to come up again for air.

It was Grandpoppa Smith!

JOHNNY remembered getting a lungful of air, then diving to the bottom of the pool. A figure swam down beside him. It was powerfully built Nick Walker.

Johnny grabbed the old fellow by his thick hair. Walker seized a leg. Young Ralph Dunkirk and the doctor lifted the old man and ran with him toward the near-by lawn. As Johnny levered himself up over the side of the pool, he heard Kay cry in dismay, "Oh, God! He couldn't swim!"

Doctor Clark had swiftly taken charge. He snapped orders as

ing. "Quick. Roll him on his stomach! There might be a chance if we give him artificial respiration!"

"I'll do it!" said husky Nick Walker, straddling the small, frail figure. His strong hands pressed on either side of the back, just below the ribs. Slowly, regularly, he started applying resuscitation.

Everyone was talking at once. Ralph Dunkirk, Kay's young friend, looked ill. "Gee!" he exclaimed. "Maybe he had a weak spell. He must have fallen in!"

Tail, dark-eyed Karen, the nurse, had been standing ready to lend aid. She said, "No one was down here. So we can't tell how long he was in the water!"

"Oh, dear God!" breathed Kay. Nick Walker continued the steady pumping. He did not say a word.

The doctor bent close to the old man's face, raising an eyelid, then feeling for a pulse.

Johnny asked, "What do you think, doc?"

"We've got to get a pulmotor," Doctor Clark said grimly.

Karen told him, "I'll call the hospital. I'll have them rush one down here."

"Wait..." ordered Clark. "It will save time if we go to the hospital."

"But..." the nurse started to say.

"Karen, please!" the doctor said with a sharpness in his voice. "We'll use Nick's station wagon. Then Nick can keep working on him while we drive." He looked toward Kay. "Bring Nick's station wagon down here."

Kay's half-naked young figure raced across the lawn toward the driveway. A moment later she was driving the station wagon right down across the grass, swinging up close to the pool. She handled the car with smooth deftness.

For the first time, Johnny remembered Irene. He swung his sharp gaze to where she had been sitting in a beach chair placed beneath the trees.

Chapter 37

IRENE was standing now. She was rigid and unmoving, looking toward the tight knot of people around the still figure that had been hauled from the pool.

Johnny imagined that she swayed slightly. He had the sudden thought that perhaps she was going to faint. He started that way. The car, with a roar, started around and away, cutting toward the drive as Johnny ran toward Irene Smith's motionless, statuesque figure. He was thinking, "What next?"

Irene's gray eyes had fastened on him, were watching his approach. Reaching her, he said worriedly, "Are you all right?"

She was swaying.

He seized her arms and steadied her. Johnny was startled to find her trembling violently. She was like a person in whom reaction is setting in after severe shock. She tried to speak and her mouth opened and closed and she made no sound. Her eyes were staring.

"You, you'd better..." Johnny started.

"He's... he's hurt!" Irene managed to say stiffly.

"It's all right," Johnny said reassuringly. "Everything's going to be all right."

Her eyes remained fastened on his. She seemed to be exerting terrific will power, trying to tell him something.

"Yes!" prompted Johnny. "What is it you are trying to say?" He gripped her arms fiercely. He was not aware that his fingers dug into her smooth ivory flesh.

"I... he was so good..."

"Yes? Yes, go on!"

She watched his eyes. He thought she understood him. "It's all right, Irene. Tell me." He no longer called her "Marie." There was a reason. This woman before him, who had been suffering from amnesia, had reached some sort of crisis, he was certain.

"You said," he repeated, "he

"He told me about... about..." she stopped, rubbing long sensitive fingers across her brow, pressing them there as though to force her brain to act.

"Yes? He told you what? Grandpoppa?"

"Yes... he told me about the stamps."

Johnny's forehead was deeply lined in a frown of concentration. "Stamps? What kind of stamps, Irene?"

"Stamps with... pictures. He showed me today... this morning..." She held to Johnny Saxon's arm, gave a sudden exhausted sigh. "I'm trying to... remember," she said, and it was as though she were out of breath. "I'm trying..."

"I know," he urged. "You say he showed you the colored stamps today? Why did he show them to you? Where are they now? What was it about them?"

HER eyes lidded, opened again. He no longer saw him. They seemed milky gray. Johnny heard quick movement near him, turned. "Karen, the nurse, came running up. 'She looked like she's going to faint,'" she cried. "Here!" Karen started rubbing the woman's arms and wrists. "She's cold as ice, and trembling!"

Johnny said, "We'll better take her to her room. Did the others all go in the station wagon?"

Moe Martin appeared from the driveway entrance to the house. His big eyes were puzzled. "What's going on?" he wanted to know. "Kay looked like she was going to a fire. And that crowd with her!"

Johnny said, "Take the roadster and follow them to the hospital. It's just the other side of Northport. You'll see road signs."

"Why?"

"Never mind asking questions. You'll find out when you get there. But get this. If he doesn't die, find out exactly what he says when he regains consciousness."

Moe jumped. His eyes batted toward the parking space in the driveway. The roadster was there. The car was out of sight by the time Johnny and the nurse led the woman up the front steps of the house.

At the top of the stairs, Karen said, "I'll take care of her. A couple of Luminal pills will quiet her nerves. She's on the verge of going to pieces."

"Yes," said Johnny. He added quickly, "But those things are dangerous, aren't they? An overdose..."

"They're only quarter-grain. Two won't even put you to sleep. They'll calm her, though."

Johnny accompanied the nurse as far as the turn into the right wing. "Be careful where you leave them!"

Karen nodded. "I keep the pills in my room."

As he watched them go into Irene's room the huge great Dane, Michael, brushed past him. For an instant the touch of the dog's body gave Johnny a start. He had completely forgotten the animal. Michael had followed them up from the pool.

An odd thing happened, then. The great Dane paused, standing there, and a low, soft growl came from his throat. If it had not been that the house was unusually quiet, Johnny would not have heard the sound at all.

"What's wrong with you, boy?" asked Johnny, looking down. Certainly the dog had not growled at him. The dog had showed fondness for both himself and Moe Martin. Then why...

The animal looked up at Johnny for an instant, then turned his head away. Again there came a low growl from deep in his throat.

Next, as though deciding to ignore what had stopped him, the great Dane moved on and disappeared into Irene Smith's bedroom.

Johnny thought it was too bad he didn't understand dog language. He had an idea there was something Michael could tell him!

Grace Methodist Choir Concert Is Delightful Event

Members of Grace Methodist church choir are to be congratulated for their splendid sacred concert presented Sunday evening. Over 300 friends and music lovers were in attendance and voiced their appreciation of the splendid work of the choruses, which were unusually well balanced.

The program consisted entirely of numbers relative to the Passion and the Resurrection. It was most impressive as the choir entered the dimly-lighted sanctuary in a candlelight procession, while Miss Diane Lord sang from the rear balcony "Tis Midnight and on Olive's Brow."

In addition to the choir numbers, there were two male choruses, a mixed quartet, and solos by Robert Buchanan and Mrs. Carl Lindquist; also solo parts and obligatos sung by Mrs. Norman Pierce and Alvin Albaugh.

The organ and piano numbers by Mrs. Kenneth Nielsen and Mrs. Dwight Silkie added much to the enjoyment of the program and both provided excellent accompaniments for the choristers and soloists.

Mrs. Edwin Jack, director, is to be complimented on the manner in which the themes were worked out and the singing of the various groups.

EASTER BALL AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Members of the Conewango Valley Country Club are reminded that Tuesday, April 15, has been set as the deadline for reservations for the Easter Ball to be held at the club on Saturday, April 19.

Van's Quartette has been engaged for this springtime event and the committee has decreed that dress should be formal. Dinner will be served promptly at eight o'clock.

Home Street Mothers Club Elects Officers

President Hazel McCarty was in charge of the monthly meeting of the Home Street School Mothers' Club Monday evening, when the slate of officers for the coming year was presented by Maude Hinderliter for the nominating committee and elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Howard Lauffenberger; vice president, Mrs. Raimer Forsgren; secretary, Mrs. Louis Gaghan; treasurer, Mrs. John Barr; program chairman, Mrs. David Potter.

Opening devotions were read by Mrs. Melvin Hauptin and, following the business session, Miss Lincoln spoke briefly concerning the School Safety Patrol.

After the election, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Paul Harrington, program chairman, who presented Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, probation officer for girls in Warren county.

Her talk was most interesting and enlightening, her related experiences revealing that most of the cases can be attributed to neglect in the home and community. Since the home is our first institution, she said, it should be the most important factor in a child's life and parents owe their children the security and stability they need so badly.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by first grade mothers, with Mrs. Harry Clepper as chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Maxine Hanson, Mrs. Bette Guiffre, Mrs. Helen Schoenfeld, Mrs. Margaret Wendelboe and Mrs. Nancy Shaffer.

Bradford Woman Delights Group With Portrayals

An unusually large audience enjoyed a very inspiring program presented at last night's meeting of the Allen Class of First Methodist church, when Mrs. Clement E. Yinger, Bradford, enacted "Easter Scenes From the Gospel."

After a short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Howard Lauffenberger, the meeting was turned over to Program Chairman Jane Frantz. The program opened with devotions led by Elizabeth Reed, who read the legends of the red lily and the dogwood tree.

Mrs. Yinger then portrayed all the characters in the following Biblical scenes: Jesus in the Home of Mary and Martha; Cleansing of the Temple; Jesus Mounts Ove Jerusalem; Jesus Before Pilate.

Preceding each scene, Miss Rowena Sullivan, Bradford, read an introductory description and beautiful vocal selections followed each of Mrs. Yinger's numbers. Miss Norma Haight sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," O'Hara; "Into the Woods My Master Went," Lanier; and "Wee You There," arranged by Bu-leigh. Her accompaniments were played by Mrs. Florence Stevens, who sang "Sheep and Lambs" by Home, with her accompaniment played by Mrs. Charles Eaton.

Mrs. Yinger's dramatizations were so vivid they made these episodes in the life of the Master very realistic, indeed, and the characteristic costumes lent an added touch which made the entire program all the more inspiring.

Farewell Honors Mr. and Mrs. Lord

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. (Chuck) Lord, of the Glassman block, were guests of honor at a delightful surprise-farewell party held at the V.F.W. social rooms last evening, with about 25 of their friends in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Lord are leaving Friday for Colorado Springs on recommendation of a physician, in the hopes that the change in climate will be beneficial to Mr. Lord. They will be guests of Mrs. Catherine Norris, 915 Cheyenne Boulevard, Colorado Springs, Colo., while in the west, and expect to return to Warren some time in June. They will make the trip to Colorado with Miss Helen Watt and Mrs. Olla Norton, two local nurses, who are planning a visit to Denver.

An enjoyable evening was spent, during which the guests of honor were presented with two pieces of luggage they will find useful in their trip.

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB OF RUSSELL MEETS

Russell, April 9—Meeting in the Methodist church, members of the Girl Scout Neighborhood Club heard from Mrs. William Owens the report of a training course for neighborhood chairmen, which she attended in Warren. She also gave a brief outline of the duties of that particular office.

After reports had been presented by leaders of Troops 3 and 93, it was stated that local Troop 50 had won second prize in the Girl Scout Craft Show held some weeks ago in the YWCA at Warren.

Members were also reminded a display in connection with the study of library work is being exhibited in the Moll store office on Main street.

The next meeting of the club will be held May 6, when a training course will be conducted.

HOLY WEEK EVENTS AT FIRST METHODIST

At 7:30 o'clock this evening in the sanctuary of First Methodist church, Dr. Arthur Colley will receive new members into the church and will preach on the theme, "For You," for the pre-communion service.

Thursday evening, from seven until nine o'clock, there will be a silent communion service, with worshippers free to come and go as they like.

On Good Friday, this church will be host for the community three-hour worship period sponsored by the Warren County Ministerial Association.

Forget Your Past Troubles and Solve Your Present Difficulties

GRANDMA MOSES, the spry little old lady who took up painting as casually as another woman might decide to learn to play Canasta, has now set down enough facts to make a book about her life.

It wasn't an easy life, either, for the farm girl who went to work as a hired girl at the age of twelve.

But of the hardships, Grandma Moses has this to say: "Of course, I had trouble, but I kind of brushed it off; I tried to teach myself to forget it and that everything would be all right in the end anyway."

That is the kind of practical courage that women need, the kind that enables them to "brush off trouble" and forget about it, once it is past.

The woman who makes herself unhappy and doesn't make anyone else happy is the woman who piles herself when trouble comes and clings to the memory of it long after it is gone.

BRUSH OFF TROUBLES; DON'T FEEL SORRY

So when you get to feeling sorry for yourself or find that you are miserable because this or that has gone wrong, remember that phrase of Grandma Moses; set your shoulders back and try brushing trouble off.

You don't want trouble clinging to you, making your mouth droop, your shoulders sag, and your outlook weary and pessimistic.

Brush it off and go on. Be determined to get at least part of what you want from life by concentrating on the things you can do something about, rather than on the things that are past and too late to act on.

Troubles are bound to come, big ones and little ones. But don't let them cling to you. Brush them off and go on.

Ancient Play Tells Easter Story

Newsfeatures

THIS WEEK this year, tourists in Italy will have a chance to see a 900-year-old passion play at Sezze, near Rome. A bowl in the hills is being fitted as a theater with seats for 100,000 people. More than 4,000 villagers take part in the 900-year-old show that tells the Easter story, but includes characters and scenes from the Bible. More performances are planned next summer.

LIFE — The rabble that followed Christ to Calvary is portrayed by the costumed people. In the course of the play they occasionally "freeze" the action. This scene looks like a frozen action, but the actors are not moving. They will hold their positions like this a full minute.

REALISM is provided by simple people accustomed for generations to portray the roles of the play. Christ is played by a clerk. Sometimes the roles are handed down from father to son and mother to daughter. Below are some of the characters who have parts in the play.

Sugar Grove Methodist Board Plans For Future

The board also discussed redecorating the Sunday school rooms prior to the centenary celebration in June. Superintendent Clifford Storms conducted the session, with 11 members in attendance. Mrs. Gerald Miller conducted devotions; Mr. Storms presented a paper on "Parents' Responsibility," and F. A. Schoonover reviewed an article, "A Tour in the Holy Land," taken from Christian Life.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

DON'T BE CHARITABLE AT THE BRIDGE TABLE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service. Bridge players as a group are highly charitable people, and the American Contract Bridge League has had great success with its nation-wide charity drive. When one of many charity tournaments was held in White Plains, New York, all of the contestants contributed handsomely to a good cause; and for good measure, many of them also contributed several tricks to their opponents.

In the hand shown today, for example, East handed the game to South on the proverbial silver platter. This was not exactly the charity that East had come there to support.

Do not confuse Ferrizan with old-fashioned liquid Iron tonics. Ferrizan is more than a tonic, it is a truly modern Dietary Supplement that, because of its Iodine content, does infinitely more than either Iron or Vitamins alone or in combination. When the second round of trumps is led from dummy, East's correct play is to put up the jack of trumps. South wins with the king, of course, but now the contract is easily defeated.

For example, suppose South continues with the nine of trumps,

South ruffed and led another diamond to knock out West's king. East eventually got one trump trick, but he could not defeat the contract.

Glorifying the Easter Ham

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Baked ham for Easter dinner this year? Then make it delicious by serving it with this Spiced Raisin Sauce. Spices do the trick, and you'll find the combination of ginger, nutmeg, dry mustard and cinnamon in this sauce a piquant one. A green vegetable such as peas, broccoli, or spinach—will taste good with the ham. If sweet potatoes. For a special holiday touch add poppyseed to the menu.

SPOICED RAISIN SAUCE
Ingredients: 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup apple juice or cider, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1 cup bread crumbs, 3 cups ground lean pork.

SPOICED HAM RING
Ingredients: 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup brown sugar (firmly packed), 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 slices canned pineapple, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs, 3 cups ground lean pork.

Method: Melt butter in bottom of 9-inch ring mold. On waxed paper mix together sugar, cloves, 1/2 teaspoon of the cinnamon, and 1/2 teaspoon of the mustard. Cut pineapple into wedges and arrange in ring mold; sprinkle sugar-spice mixture over bottom of mold. In mixing bowl beat eggs with salt, pepper, ginger, remaining 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, and remaining 1/2 teaspoon mustard; stir in pineapple juice and bread crumbs; mix in ham and pork so they are well distributed. Pack into ring mold. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven 50 to 60 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Youngville School Budget Considered At Board Meeting

A tentative budget for the operation of Youngville schools was presented to the board by Supervising Principal Paul R. Getts at the April meeting of that group, held last evening. Final figures for the budget, which calls for $125,500, will hinge on the operation of the Brokenstraw Valley Joint Board, which is to begin its operation in Youngville borough, Brokenstraw, Pittsfield and Eldred townships on July 1.

At the sum of $1643.47 were approved for payment, and Principal Getts reported to the board that attendance during March was at a low point, due to severe epidemics of influenza, mumps and chicken pox among the students. He also reported that the loyalty oath required from all teachers had been complied with on March 11.

The board has received a final installment of $40,724.50 from the Department of Public Instruction for the current school year. It was reported, also, that the reimbursement fraction for 1952-53 will be 1 1/2% higher than last year.

Application was made for approval of the safety education and driver training program now in effect in the high school in order that the district may be eligible for reimbursement for the program under new law.

Charles Paul, track coach, reported to the board that the revival of the sport in Youngville high school is meeting with great success and that the condition of the squad is improving. Training is being held daily, but work on putting the East Main street field in condition has been held up by the weather.

The board approved use of the gymnasium, April 21, for a dinner of Youngville BPW Club; on April 29 for a Kiwanis Club Father-Son dinner; and the auditorium on May 8 and 9 for Youngville Cub Scout minstrels.

Pennsylvania Takes 24,000 DP Settlers In Last Four Years

Harrisburg, April 9—(P)—A total of some 24,000 displaced persons have been settled in Pennsylvania since a program to aid them was instituted in 1948.

The figure was made public in a final report to Gov. John S. Fine yesterday by Dr. A. C. Baugher, president of Elizabethtown College and chairman of the Pennsylvania Commission on Displaced Persons.

The report said the program was "worthwhile" in rescuing "men and women and children from the terrible plight of rootless existence in the DP camps of Germany, Austria and Italy."

It warned that the "assimilation of these newcomers, all prospective citizens, into the national and state life will remain a problem after the commission ceases to function."

The regular DP admission program expired Dec. 31. Of those admitted to Pennsylvania more than 10,000 were of Polish extraction, Lithuanians and Latvians were next with about 2,000 each.

Some DP's were settled in 66 of the commonwealth's 67 counties, the only exception being Cameron county.

The report gave a major share of credit for carrying out the program to aid furnished by the Church World Service, the National Lutheran Council, the National Catholic Welfare Conference and the United Service for New Americans.

BULLETIN

An official of the Warren office of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania this afternoon stated that not any unions in the state are affected or affiliated with the C. I. O. The only trouble or delay that could be anticipated would be in placing calls to points where Western Electric may have men at work on installations or other projects. It was stated that there are five states, especially in the Midwest or west coast where long distance calls may be delayed. Locally there was nothing to indicate that the service was affected by the labor dispute.

LABORITES FIGHT FOR FREE HEALTH SERVICE

London, April 9—(P)—British Laborites kept a weary House of Commons in session until 2:45 a. m. today in a filibuster designed to keep the nation's health service free to patients.

The socialists jammed the parliamentary hopper with 130 amendments. A power failure put the lights out, too, but the narrow Conservative majority slowly edged its bill toward passage.

The American Legion was organized in 1919.

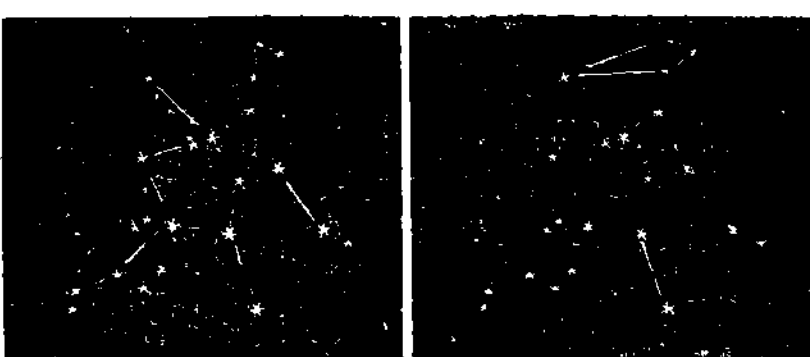

Charting the Stars

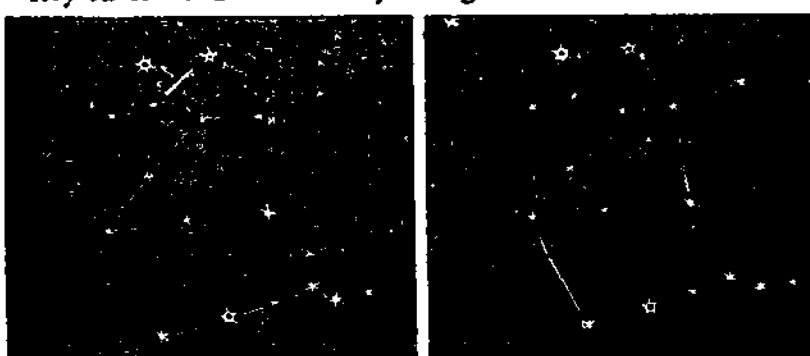

AP Newsfeatures
STAR GAZING has interested men for so long that its beginning in antiquity cannot be traced. Through the ages they have tried to group stars in "constellations", many of which are linked to ancient myths. Charts drawn to show these constellations have puzzled moderns. H. A. Rey was one who was puzzled. "There is a better way to chart the stars," he said, and produced a book to prove it. Known for his children's books, his "The Stars" reduces the problem to its simplest terms for both children and adults. Here are four illustrations of the old and new charts taken from Rey's book. His charts are at right.

GREAT BEAR—This star group which contains the Big Dipper is one of the best known in the northern sky. The two stars farthest from the handle of the Dipper point to the North Star around which Rey groups his charts of the stars. The Bear is visible all year.

HERCULES provides a picture of the hero with a club when Rey charts it. Best seen May through October.

Pegasus can best be seen August to October.

TWINS are best seen December through May.

HAS SKULL FRACTURE

Corry Journal: Final results of an X-ray examination showed Pvt. Neil McKay of the Corry police department suffered a skull fracture in addition to a broken nose and concussion of the brain in a fracas while attempting to arrest Richard Paul Culver, 17, of West Pleasant street, 11 days ago. McKay, who was released from the Corry Memorial Hospital last week, was ordered by his physician to refrain from returning to work as a patrolman for two or three weeks and possibly longer, depending upon his condition at that time. Council members in their meeting last night approved payment of McKay's salary for the time he is off, since he was injured in the line of duty, with the stipulation that the compensation check revert to the city.

WESTERN UNION IS TAKING FIRM STAND

New York, April 9—(P)—Stockholders of Western Union were told by management today the company planned to stand firm in refusing wage demands of striking members of the AFL-Commercial Telegraphers' Union.

About 75 members of the striking union paraded quietly and in orderly manner in front of the building as the stockholders arrived for the meeting.

There were less than 200 of the Western Union's 20,000 stockholders attending.

Walter P. Marshall, president, told the annual meeting that the union's demands amounted to 60 cents an hour per employee and, if granted, "would cost your company 60 million dollars a year or about nine times our net income in 1951."

REPORT FOR MARCH BY VISITING NURSE

Presenting her monthly report at the Tuesday morning board meeting of the Warren Visiting Nursing Association, Nurse Helen Downey showed a total of 83 persons were assisted by the agency during the month of March.
Ten of these cases were added during the month, the remainder were carried over from previous month because they still required nursing attention. Of the total, 20 were acute medical, 29 were chronic and four were surgical.
Nursing visits made by Nurse
Downey during the month totaled 233, with an additional 66 office and telephone calls.

at the city building last week show that 139 children were exam-

Among those given examinations were all the children who have had polio recently and some who have had the disease in the past and still need care.

Dr. Chamberlin, chief of the state orthopedic division, with Miss Catherine Patton, R.N., orthopedic consultant, Miss Kaylor, state nu-man from the Elizabethtown Crippled Children's Hospital, were among those assisting; also Mrs.

Maasz, new Crippled Children's Committee nurse; six state nurses, and a number of lay workers.

At noontime, a delicious luncheon was served to all the workers.
This feature of the day's program was made possible through the

A BOY AT CALVARY

By Jay Heavilin and Walt Scott

Memories rang out as Sakron reached the summit of Golgotha. Jesus and two thieves, Dismas and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were being nailed to their crosses.

Dark was the sky and bright the blood that trickled from the pierced palms and feet of the three men as the crosses were pushed upright into gaping holes.

A sign above Jesus' head cast a shadow on three soldiers ruttling dice for the garments of the "Messiah." Sakron made out the words: "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews."

Once, when he had gazed upon the Dead Sea at sunset, Sakron had experienced the inner peace and warmth he now felt before Jesus. Was it the man's patient, expressive eyes, bright against the darkening sky?

Or was it the soft voice that seven times made itself heard above the shouts of hecklers and wails of women? To the women, Jesus had said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for Me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children." And to His tormentors: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

It was decided definitely by the group that all registration be made during this period and the deadline date not be extended. Boys who did not sign up during this week would be unable to play. However, should a boy be sick or act unable to register a parent could make the registration, any special incidents would be brought up before the registration committee. The exact time and place of registrations in the various districts will be up to the chairman and will be announced in advance. The fee will be 25 cents, the same as last year. District chairmen this year are: Wards 1, 2 and 3, Ray J. Upper Fourth, Frank Bonavita; Lower Fourth, Nick La; 5th Ward, Dick Swanson and Gerald Archibald; 6th Ward, Barney Pasquino; 7th Ward, Paul Masci; 8th Ward, Massia; 9th Ward, Angus Bailey; North Warren, Jim Kshank; Youngville and Pittsfield, Rev. Stephen K. Clarendon, Ned Henry; Rogertown, Paul Ristau; and East Township, Bob Anderson. Reports will be made and registration cards turned in to the chairmen at the next meeting of the Hot Stove League, Tuesday, April 22. Equipment, along with several other important items, will also be on the agenda for this meeting. A fine representation will be necessary to start definite registration. Mr. Hendrickson, in charge of contacting sponsors this year, reported that the response has been good and 32 already been secured.

Motta will be out to avenge defeat inflicted on him by last January in Boston. dicting he would stop Hayes, Bronx Bull said: "I'll get good and even with him. WHIZ KID RETURNS—Sgt. Curt Simmons, seen here greeting his wife at National Airport in Washington, returns to the United States after duty in Germany with the 28th Division. Simmons, who was flown home, will be in uniform for the Philadelphia Phillies on opening day after receiving his Army discharge at Camp Kilmer, N. J., tomorrow.

Much Interest Here in Olympic Try-Outs Today in Pittsburgh

Top flight competition is assured for the Tri-State Olympic Tryouts which started at the Pitt Field House in Pittsburgh this afternoon. Heading the list of men who will be in action during the two day affair which will qualify finalists for the final Olympic trials at Iowa State, will be Hugh Peery of Pitt, Bob Carlin of Indiana, Eddie Casalicchio of Michigan State, Ray Carlson of Waynesburg, Bill Kehslake of Cleveland, and Homer Barr, former Penn State star from Warren. The other Warren contender in the 174.5 pound class is Bob Benson, and competing with him from this area is Ray Bronzie from Edinboro State Teachers College. Bronzie beat Benson in the Great Lakes tournament at Erie this year. Hugh Perry, Pitt entry in the 114.5 pound class won the NCAA title at Colorado A. & M. two weeks ago, and will be up against Bob Carlin of Indiana, who finished fourth in the national same meet. Eddie Casalicchio of Michigan State finished second in the National AAU a year ago, but he will be competing against Len DeAugustino of Lock Haven State Teachers, Four I champion, and Larry Fornicola of Penn State, competing unattached, state Y. M. C. A. titleholder for two years. In the 160.5 pound class, Joe Solomon of Pitt, who lost one meet during the regular season, and lost a referee's decision in both the NCAA and Four I championships, and Tom Lewis of Waynesburg, Four I champ, and top men. Real action is expected in the unlimited class, where entries include Homer Barr, former Penn State mat star and Easter Intercollegiate champion for two years; Bill Kerslak, Four I champ; and Dick Read of Illinois. Other top performers are Joe Malone of Waynesburg, who finished third in the NCAA, and Pitt's Charley Uram, who lost one match all year, and just missed a fourth in the NCAA as a 147 pounder.

Return of Hornsby Viewed by Talbot As Aid to Baseball

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, April 9—(P)—The coming baseball season promises to be much the richer for the return of Rogers Hornsby as manager of the St. Louis Browns. The Rajah, probably the greatest right-handed hitter who ever lived, was away far too long. A man who loves the game as Hornsby does and is able to drill its finer points into younger players with his sure hand should never have been permitted to wander around the outer fringes ever since 1937, conducting baseball schools and managing in the minors. He belongs in the big time, and President Bill Veeck of the Browns deserves credit for having brought him back. Under Hornsby the Browns will be no laughing stock. They will be a colorful, fighting ball club and they will help attendance all around the American League. They will not finish last and they could finish as high as fifth if any of several pitchers delivers as he has sworn to do for his manager. For some reason not easily discernable, Hornsby commands a fierce loyalty both from his younger players and from veterans who have been cast off by other clubs. Several of the latter, in particular, such as shortstop Marty Marion and pitcher Tommy Byrne, can be counted upon to give it a terrific try. Perhaps they feel they have a common bond with the man who was an outcast for so long. All the Rajah's waking hours are devoted to baseball. In spring camp at Burbank he was up at 7 a. m. and demanded that everyone else rise at the same miserable hour—even the writers attached to his club. It took us two sulphuric mornings to convince the girl on the switchboard that we were a free literary agent. When he isn't on the field, Hornsby is sitting in the lobby with a toothpick between his strong teeth, talking baseball with all comers. There was a sign over his favorite location this spring saying "Hornsby's Chair." and there were no interlopers. We asked him one night if he hadn't ever been interested in football or basketball or some other sport, and he said no. "Why should I?" he asked. "There's enough to do learning all there is to know about baseball. I'm still trying to learn."

Simmons' Discharge Is Set for Thursday

New Brunswick, N. J., April 9—(P)—Curt Simmons began his last day of Army life today before rejoining the Philadelphia Phillies. The 22-year-old mound ace arrived at Camp Kilmer yesterday and started through the routine that will lead to his discharge early tomorrow. Simmons, who was called to active duty with the 28th Infantry Division in September, 1950, returned to this country from Germany Monday. He said he would rejoin the Phillies as soon as agreement is reached on a contract for the season. SHINE 'em UP! 25c KIWI polish BROWN'S SHOE SHOP 342 Pa. Ave., W.

Hot Stove League chairmen are reminded to get announcements of their registration dates, time and place, into the Times-Mirror as soon as possible. Preferably before Friday morning.

Anyone interested in entering a team in the Industrial Softball League this season should be present at the reorganization meeting being held at the YMCA Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Members of the YMCA Ride Club should note that there will be no shooting at the State Armory this Saturday.

We are anxious for the next issue of the "Dragonette" to come out. It seems the staff is planning a few things out of the ordinary.

After enjoying an entire evening at bridge, Lois Hulings had it all spoiled the other night when she started for home. Her car had a flat tire and there wasn't an industrious male in sight.

CHATTERS FROM THE "PATHELETTE"—With 13 undefeated seasons in 18 years, and all under its only coach, Arthur J. Weiss, Clearfield has been made the "Wrestling Capital of State" by top mat teams. The 180-yard hurdles event will replace the 200-yard contest in all FIAA meets this year. This is in line with action taken last year by the Board of Control following a survey of schools. The distance between the hurdles will be lengthened from 18 to 20 yards. Eight hurdles will be used. The 20-yard distance applies between the starting line and the first hurdle and the last and the finish line.

Getting a second look at Spring Tuesday afternoon reminded us that golfers not counting the anxious ones will be out at the Country Club soon, getting rid of those slices and hooks. Stan Korb is men's golf chairman at the club this year and announces that the season will officially open on May 8.

Just a little reminder in advance to members of the Sunset League managers of a meeting to be held at the Times-Mirror next Monday night at 7:30.

Just out of college a miss comes here so wise. But she also likes bridge, which could mean otherwise.

The Ex-servicemen's Bowling League banquet will be held on Tuesday, April 22.

Conewango Club's First Golf Tournament To Be Held May 8

Thursday, May 8, has been set as the date for the first golf tournament and dinner at the Conewango Valley Country Club, according to men's golf chairman, Stan Korb. Working with Mr. Korb on his committee this year are Wendell Lawson, handicaps; Dick Krapfel, tournament; Bill Simonsen, publicity; and Ed Branch, Jr., prizes. At the present time the club's greens are not in top condition and the grass is still long, however, the groundsman are working hard on the course and should have it in shape very shortly. By this time, interest will be keen, as a number of "early birds" have already been out for practice rounds. Mrs. Homer Culbertson is women's golf chairman this year and announces that their activities will officially begin on May 14 with several matches, followed by a dinner. The club's golf pro, Chuck Jones, who recently returned from Florida, plans on getting his program started soon and will announce his plans at that time. Included in his activities will be group lessons two days a week for juniors.

Softball Managers To Meet Thursday

Managers interested in entering a team in the Industrial Softball League this season will meet at the YMCA at 7:30 tomorrow night to elect officers and begin steps towards reorganizing.

Last year the league was abandoned, but will undoubtedly be represented by some of the teams that were active in 1950. They included the Newell Press, State Hospital, Russell, Busy Bee, East Side, Hanna Motors and two Tidoute teams, Nortons and the Mohawks.

Seals Punctures and Protects Against Blowouts and now it DEFIES SKIDS too!

New tread wipes a WET road so DRY you can light a match on it!

The tread of the new B. F. Goodrich "LIFE-SAVER" Tubeless Tire has thousands of flexible "grip blocks," so closely spaced you can hardly see them. They wipe a wet road so dry you can light a match on it—grip like a caterpillar tread. As a result, the "LIFE-SAVER" Tubeless Tire stops on wet pavement up to 20% quicker than other tires, has up to 40% more pulling power.

Under blowout conditions, "LIFE-SAVER" Tubeless Tire loses air so slowly, allows plenty of time for a safe stop. In case of puncture, gummy rubber under the tread seals against puncturing object, plugs hole when object is withdrawn. Patents covering basic features of Tubeless Tires have been issued to The B. F. Our Great America

★ by Wady

IS AMERICA'S FAVORITE GUNSTOCK WOOD. ITS ABILITY TO WITHSTAND SHOCK AND STRAIN IN ALL KINDS OF WEATHER IS QUANTIFIABLE. IN WORLD WAR I, MDT AIRPLANE PROPELLERS WERE MADE OF WALNUT.

IT TAKES SHIP, AS WELL AS A GOOD LEAD, TO STEAL SECOND BARS. IN JUST 2 1/2 SECONDS A BASEBALL CAN LEAVE A PITCHER'S HAND, TRAVEL TO THE CATCHER AND BE THROUGH BY HIM TO SECOND BASE.

FREE LAND

OKLAHOMA'S FAMOUS "LAND OVEN" BEGAN ON APRIL 22, 1889, WHEN THE INDIAN TERRITORY WAS OPENED TO HOMESTEADERS. OKLAHOMA CITY WAS FOUNDED ON THAT DAY.
